James was very patriotic and quite proud of his military service. He also had tremendous respect for his fellow brothers and sisters in arms. During his service he was awarded Expert Badges with weaponry, the Army Achievement Medal; the Army Commendation Medal and German Marksman Medals ("Schutzenschnur") in bronze and silver. James took pride in his marksmanship awards and continued to enjoy his hobby as a gun and knife enthusiast through the years. “ I'm sorry to learn that James has suddenly died! He was a friendly neighbor and was clearly devoted to his family. I had a feeling something was wrong when I saw Linda the other day talking to some visitors outside at their car. When I said, "Hi, Linda!" she barely answered and had a look of deep concern on her face. I'd never seen her like that and promised myself to stop by this weekend to check on her and James. I figured someone in the family had died or was ill, but never suspected it was James. My heart goes out to Linda and all James' loved ones. Peace.

“ We mourn your loss of Stan. We had met him and Linda on some of their visits to Laurel to check on his mom and dad. He and I always had good conversations. I know he was a Christian man that always cared for his family. If we can do anything for Mr. Rad here in Laurel, please let us know.

“ Very sad to hear of his sudden death. James always seemed to be the first to check on neighbors following a severe power outage or natural disaster. He was the type of person who took action if something was not right, and then make every effort to make it right or provide whatever assistance needed, wherever needed. A recent example occurred when a local branch library ran out of face masks for free distribution. James immediately contacted a county official who arranged for delivery of additional masks to the branch, so that the library received them within an hour. He will be missed.
May he rest in peace.

“ We are saddened to learn of the passing of James. We were privileged to meet James a few times when his and Linda's travel plans brought them close by. James was always friendly, positive and good-natured. We really enjoyed our short visits and talking with them both. His love and devotion to Linda was readily apparent and the world seems to dim a little bit when we lose a soul like James.

God bless you James, Linda and your family.
