“ My guys (and a few ladies, but especially the guys) loved to give Beetle a very hard time. For those of you that knew him, you know he was very literal and specific. He always worked to the letter of the law or requirement. Well, apparently he was invited to some party where you signed up for what you planned to bring. Beetle signed up for "rice." No one who knew Beetle is surprised to know he showed up with a bag of rice! My guys gave him "H_I!!!" for years over that !!! And he shrugged it off! Beetle was a true gentleman and scholar, through and through!!!

“ I was sorry to learn that Clayton has died. I hope he had a comfortable last days. I had last communicated with him last Christmas and knew he was having some health problems, but I thought they were temporary. I had known Clayton since high school and been in the same Sunday School class with him at Trinity Methodist during those years. I was also glad to see him at most of our Class of 1958 reunions. He was always interesting to talk with through the years. I will miss sending and receiving our yearly Christmas greetings.
