“ We miss you so much Nana. As we approach the holidays I am struggling to not break down. I can't bring you kiffles or cheeseball. I can't even look at a poinsettia without getting misty-eyed. This time of year was always some of our best memories standing side by side with you in the kitchen. Forever grateful for the love you shared. We love you! ❤️

“ Almost two weeks since you left us here on earth to go be with Popa in heaven and it still doesn't seem real. I still remember these days where us grandkids drove y'all crazy yet you loved having us around as much as possible.

“ My sweet Nana. I will forever cherish our time together. All the time we spent in the kitchen from setting the table, making salad, and peeling potatoes, to the rolling kiffle dough and grinding nuts. This picture makes me so happy. You were so happy to be in that kitchen and just happy to have your family soaking it up with you. I promise I will continue on with your traditions and make sure my children and future grandchildren learn everything just as if you were right there teaching them. I love you always and forever. ~Moni

“ Mrs. Curvey was a very sweet woman. I never saw her with ruffled feathers but she might have been ruffled by her kids? She was a loving woman who cherished her family and always made dinners on Sunday for them. I have known Mrs. Curvey since I was 8 when they lived for a short time across the street from us while Cliff was recuperating with a broken leg. He served in the Army and was getting treatment at the Valley Forge Hospital in Phoenixville Pa. She will be missed. Prayers for all of the family. We have remained friends with this family all of these years. God Bless you Mrs. Curvey.
