“ Paul was a person who gave 110% to whatever endeavor he undertook. He had a true Christian heart and gave friendship and love unselfishly without reserve. It was a privilege to work with him for many years. Currently I have COVID and am on quarantine, but know that my thoughts and prayers are with you Shirley and family.

“ Paul was a Christian man of integrity who loved his wife Shirley and would do anything for his family. He knew the true meaning of sacrificial love as did Shirley and was an example for men to emulate as a godly husband, father, grandfather, and friend. I remember a visit with Paul during his recovery from hip surgery. We found several areas of common ground to discuss and really hit it off. Paul and I enjoyed our visits and as our friendship grew, I found him to be a man with a gentle nature and big heart. Paul was a gifted conversationalist and storyteller. His voice was soothing and put you at ease when he spoke. His calm demeanor had a way of drawing you into a story so you could not wait to hear the outcome. My contact with Paul grew less over the years but the bond we had in Christ never wavered. When Brother Jim Johnson and I visited him in the hospital last December, it was as if time had not separated us. We simply picked up where we left off. Paul knew he was saved, where he was going and that his life and whatever days he had left were in the Lord’s hands – the safest place they could be. After that day in December, The Lord gave Paul many more months with his family and friends before he was called home on July 2nd. My brother completed his race. Regardless of the days or years left in my life, I know, because of my belief in Jesus for the forgiveness of my sins, that when I get to heaven, Paul and I will pick up where we left off as if time had not separated us.

Both Gene and I have wonderful memories of Paul from his high school days when he lived across the street from us on Cambridge Dr. We just read of his passing in the paper this afternoon and want his family to know that we would have come to his funeral had we known in time as he was very special to us then and now. He will be greatly missed by us and many others whose lives he touched. Our sincere condolences to the Blackburn family. Gene & Ginny Densmore

RIP sweet friend. I'm at SGI eating at BJ's and thought of you. Everything everyone has written about you, is so true. You, me and PJ had so much fun at Driver License, especially out at the truck stop doing the CDL thing. Thoughts and Prayers for Shirley, the boys and their families. What a great loss. Lisa
