“ Please accept my sincere condolences on your loss. May you find comfort in family, friends and good memories, and may you find peace in the hope of John 5:28-29 in seeing your loved one again, and in the hope of living in a world with no more death, tears or pain. (Revelation 21:3-4) Take care of each other.

“ I'd just like express my condolences to Sharon's family. Nothing hurts like losing someone we love.I lost my father some time ago, but one of the things that has helped me to cope is the Bible's promise that God will raise our loved ones back to life on a paradise Earth very soon.Revelation 21:4 says that God will "wipe every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away."I hope your family can find some comfort during this difficult time.

“ I had the honor of knowing Sharon for several years. I am so blessed to be able to call her one of my friends. She was one of the kindest, most loving, Christ like women I've ever known. I will be forever grateful for the loving care she provided for two of my grandchildren when their Moms returned to work. None of us ever worried one second about them when they were in her care. Please know that your entire family is in my thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.
